A note from the Coordinator:

Wow this past week has flown by quickly!

Helping Hands continues to collect milk bottles before vacation care arrives, in preparation for building our igloo. A big thanks to the families that have already contributed to our current collection of milk bottles.

This past week we have seen a fantastic display of creativity in our construction zone – with some fantastic building designs and structures being built by our boys at the service. Great job!

Also, our vacation care brochure will be out soon – so keep an eye out for it and book in early as places will fill quickly!
