

Mind Power 2000

There was sweat dripping down my face, smoke going everywhere, metals, screws flying up in the air. It was nearly ready, and soon I could send it into the world and make billions and billions of dollars.

"Just one more piece and it will be ready," I said to myself impatiently "AH all I need to do is charge it." After it was charged I tested it, I got my assistant to ask me a few questions, they were really hard. I just press a button and suddenly I know the answer in half a second.

"Behold the Mind Power 2000!" I yelled with a wicked laugh.
