

The Hairless Gorilla and Flying Pig with Armour Invasion

Trapped at the Hairless Gorilla Army I spoke in my gorilla voice and asked "Can we have an arm wrestle and, if I win, will you let me free?" They nodded their heads and said "ooh, ooh, ooh". I versed the grown up Hairless Gorilla's but lost to them all. So then I tried to verse a baby Hairless Gorilla and I won! But then all of the baby Hairless Gorillas joined together to make one whole ginormous Hairless Gorilla for me to arm wrestle. I used so much strength that my muscles popped out and I became as big and as strong as 10 T-Rexes! Hooray, I won and I was free.

I went back home and saw on the news that the Hairless Gorilla Army and the Ginormous Hairless Gorilla were trying to capture people to steal their hair. Lucky I escaped and saved my hair.

Next on the news I saw that Alaska had been invaded by flying pigs with armour. I had a brother who lived in Alaska - he was half Pokemon and half dog and he was faster than the Flash. His moustache was as long and as strong as 50 crocodiles. I had to get there quick to make sure he was safe from the flying pigs with armour. I put my hands on the ground and pushed myself and went flying through the air all the way to Alaska.

The flying pigs started chasing both of us. We were running away so fast that we ran straight through the middle of a volcano. The pigs followed us into the volcano and fell and got stuck in the larva. Then there was a massive explosion and the air filled with crispy bacon.

Dad saw the whole thing on the news and had just arrived in his solar car to pick us up and take us home but first we all enjoyed crispy bacon sandwiches.
